THE RISE AND REIGN OF JEFF BEZOS

EMPIRE

Jeff Bezos is not only one of the richest men in the world, he has built a business empire that is without precedent in the history of American capitalism. His power to shape everything from the future of work to the future of commerce to the future of technology is unrivaled. As politicians and regulators around the world start to consider the global impact of Amazon—and how to reign in Bezos' power—FRONTLINE investigates how he executed a plan to build one of the most influential economic and cultural forces in the world. With interviews of current and former insiders as well as regulators and critics, this film raises important questions about Jeff Bezos and the empire he built. 2x60, 1x120 HD

MCCARTHY

— POWER FEEDS ON FEAR —

McCarthy chronicles the rise and fall of Joseph McCarthy, the Senator who tested the limits of American decency and democracy. Free of restraint or oversight, he conducted a crusade against those he accused of being Communists and enemies of the state, a chilling campaign marked by groundless accusations, bullying intimidation, grandiose showmanship and cruel victimization. Finally, after years in the headlines, he was brought down by his own excesses and overreach. He died a broken man, but his name lived on. For more than half a century, it has been linked to an all-too-familiar phenomenon, the modern-day witch hunt we call McCarthyism. 2x60, 1x120 HD

AMERICA'S GREAT DIVIDE

FROM OBAMA TO TRUMP

An investigation into America's increasingly bitter, divided and toxic politics. Episode One traces how Barack Obama's promise of unity collapsed as increasing racial, cultural and political divisions laid the groundwork for the rise of Donald Trump. Episode Two examines how Donald Trump's campaign exploited the country's divisions and how his presidency has unleashed anger on both sides of the divide. 4x60, 2x120 HD

NATURAL HISTORY

RISE OF THE MAMMALS

Sixty-six million years ago, an asteroid slammed into Earth, bringing the dinosaurs' reign to a fiery end. But from this catastrophe, tiny mammal survivors were able to emerge from the shadows and flourish. Today we live in the age of mammals, with a staggering array of species, from lions to bats to whales. But how did our predecessors evolve so rapidly and diversify into the range of creatures we know today? An astonishing new trove of fossils is finally providing some answers. NOVA takes you to Colorado, where fossils hidden inside ordinary-looking rocks provide a dramatic picture of how life rebounded in the first million years after the asteroid impact. They show how plants and animals evolved together, and how rat-sized mammals—safe from dinosaurs' jaws—ballooned in size at an astounding rate. What the fossils tell us may transform our understanding of our fellow mammals—and how life can recover after a mass extinction. 1x53 HD

Survivor

Survivor is more than a perilous journey, it is a story of a mother's bond, a species' endurance and one extraordinary calf's breathtaking survival. Within moments of birth, a wildebeest calf is seized by a lioness. What should be the end of this story is just the beginning. Instinct drives the naive calf to bond with the nearest warm body: the lioness. In a never-before filmed moment, the lioness bonds in return. Survivor offers a way to see through the eyes of a newborn calf as it runs an obstacle course of hazards—cheetahs, leopards, hyenas, crocodiles—and a lion that defies nature. 1x70 HD

Mama Twiga in the Garden of Eden

Since prehistoric times, there has been a place in the Serengeti where giraffes are permanent residents. They now share their grounds with the local impalas, Thomson's gazelles and Grant's gazelles. These new inhabitants live in constant danger from predators such as cheetahs, leopards, lions and hyenas, but adult giraffes are relatively safe. The giraffes' offspring, however, are not as lucky. Mama Twiga in the Garden of Eden tells the emotional story of a mother giraffe, Mama Twiga, and the struggles of young giraffes and gazelles as they take on the risks of growing in the wilds of Swahili. 1x50 HD

African Bambi

On the great plains of Africa, predators must seize any opportunity to gain the upper hand. The cheetah and gazelle are natural opponents, both compelled by two profoundly embedded instincts—one to chase and the other to flee. This is the story of two fawns, living parallel lives—one, an impala resident in the southern acacia forests, and the other, a Thompson's gazelle soon to be on the march with the great herds in the grasslands. Both must outrun the hunters to survive in a relentless and deadly contest in the East Africa savannah, one of the most beautiful places on Earth. 1x77 HD

THE SERENGETI RULES

Academy Award-winning Passion Pictures and HHMI Tangled Bank Studios present one of the most important but untold science stories of our time—a tale with profound implications for the fate of life on our planet. Beginning in the 1960s, a small band of young scientists headed out into the wilderness, driven by an insatiable curiosity about how nature works. Immersed in some of the most remote and spectacular places on Earth—from the majestic Serengeti to the Amazon jungle; from the Arctic Ocean to Pacific tide pools—they discovered a single set of rules that govern all life. Now in the twilight of their eminent careers, these unsung heroes of modern ecology share the stories of their adventures, reveal how their pioneering work flipped our view of nature on its head, and give us a chance to reimagine the world as it could and should be. 1x51, 1x84 HD

Decoding da Vinci

Leonardo da Vinci was the quintessential Renaissance man, accomplished in engineering, fine art, and biology, among other disciplines. Today, his centuries-old "inventions" seem to predict our modern age: contraptions similar to parachutes, army tanks, hang gliders, and robots fill his notebooks. But the man and the techniques behind masterpieces like "Mona Lisa" remain a mystery. On the 500th anniversary of da Vinci's death, NOVA goes to Italy to explore his life and work. Then, in the basement of the Louvre, scientists and art restoration experts deploy cutting-edge technology to (digitally) peel back the layers of da Vinci's works. Ultimately, they'll reveal the impact of his science on his art and his art on his science. 1x55 HD

Targeting El Paso

FRONTLINE looks at how El Paso became Trump's immigration testing ground and then the target of a white supremacist. Through interviews with border patrol agents, militias, local advocates, and migrants, this film presents the inside story from the epicenter of the border crisis. 1x54 HD

Donald Trump has made opposition to immigration the signature policy of his presidency, and used anti-immigration fervor to animate his supporters and fuel a political movement. Drawing on nearly 40 lengthy, on-camera interviews, this documentary describes how Steve Bannon, Stephen Miller and Jeff Sessions saw in the Trump candidacy a chance to roll back immigration—and how they have waged a war inside the White House to keep an unpredictable president on course. Zero Tolerance shows that while Trump rode to power amid a chorus of “Build the Wall,” behind the scenes the president was an unreliable ally on implementing key anti-immigration plans. As the president waffled, Miller, Sessions and Bannon played the central role in bringing their “imperfect instrument” back into line. It's a must-watch look at how America's immigration policies—and the rhetoric and images surrounding them—reached this moment. 1x54 HD

With unprecedented, intimate access both to police officials implicated in the killings and the families destroyed as the result of Duterte's deadly campaign, On the President's Orders is a shocking and revelatory investigation into the extrajudicial murders that continue to this day. Entering a murky world of crime, drugs and politics, the filmmakers have captured the clear trajectory of what depths those who wield excessive power can reach, when attacking those who have the very least. 1x54, 1x71 HD

Trump's Trade War

President Donald Trump's decision to put tariffs on billions of dollars in Chinese imports in 2018 shocked the world—and launched a perilous confrontation between the world's two largest economic superpowers. From FRONTLINE producer Rick Young and his team and NPR correspondent Laura Sullivan, Trump's Trade War takes viewers on the ground in both the U.S. and China, drawing on business and government insider accounts to offer an eye-opening look at the increasingly competitive rivalry between the two countries—a rivalry that extends well beyond just trade and tariffs. 1x54 HD

Marcos Doesn't Live Here Anymore

Marcos Doesn't Live Here Anymore examines the national immigration debate with the help of two unforgettable protagonists. Elizabeth, a U.S. Marine veteran and immigration activist, tirelessly works to reunite her family after her husband, Marcos, is deported to Mexico. Meanwhile, Marcos copes with his loneliness and grapples with the urge to cross the border illegally to see his kids. Once Elizabeth's efforts to return her husband hit a legal brick wall, she must plan for the unthinkable: living in exile to keep her family together. After seven years, the family reunites in Mexico. But will they remember how to live together? 2x54, 1x116 HD

In the Age of AI

FRONTLINE investigates the promise and perils of AI; from fears about work and privacy to rivalry between the U.S. and China. This film looks at a new industrial revolution that will reshape and disrupt our lives, our jobs and our world, and allow the emergence of the surveillance society. 2x54, 1x114 HD

College Behind Bars tells the personal stories of a dozen incarcerated men and women determined to turn their lives around and earn college degrees in the rigorous Bard Prison Initiative (BPI). Shot over four years in maximum and medium security prisons in NY State, the four-part documentary series puts a human face on mass incarceration and reveals the transformative power of education. 2x52, 4x56 HD

Propaganda: The Art of Selling Lies

It may feel as if the present-day political world is spinning out of control, as are the various means of selling political thought. This program analyzes what is behind past and current propaganda, and questions what exactly is "the truth." Propaganda identifies the predominant means and methods of persuasion that have been employed by those seeking power, often at any cost. The documentary looks back at key epochs of history when propaganda defined nations and kept populations in check. The time-honored tools of propaganda have included novels, poetry and oratory; statuary, paintings and posters; theatre, film and television; architecture, music and Internet technology. 1x57, 1x90 HD

HISTORY

THE POISON SQUAD

By the close of the Industrial Revolution, the American food supply was tainted—by frauds, fakes and legions of new, untested chemicals—all threatening the health of consumers across the country. Based on the critically acclaimed book by Deborah Blum, The Poison Squad tells the story of crusading government chemist Harvey Washington Wiley, the man who led the pure food movement against the food manufacturing industry in the early years of the twentieth century, embarking upon a series of bold and controversial trials on twelve human subjects—who would become known as the “Poison Squad.” Wiley’s experiments and tireless advocacy laid the groundwork for the United States’ consumer protection laws, and ultimately the creation of the FDA. 2x60, 1x120 HD

The Dictator's Playbook

From Mussolini to Saddam Hussein, dictators have shaped the world we live in. How did they seize and wield power? What forces rose up against them or resisted them in secret? How did they finally come to the bitter end? This series answers those questions in six immersive hours, each a revealing portrait of brutality and power. 6x54 HD

Episodes Include: Kim Il Sung; Saddam Hussein; Benito Mussolini; Manuel Noriega; Francisco Franco; Idi Amin

The Feud

The feud between the Hatfields and McCoys is perhaps the most famous family conflict in American history. As legend has it, two neighboring families in the backwoods of Appalachia waged a crude and bloody war against each other over a stolen hog, an illicit romance, and longstanding grudges. Once it started, there was nothing to stop the spiral of murder: no social mores against violence, no legal or political institutions in control, no personal religious values holding people back. Yet as this program reveals, the legend belies the truth. Both the Hatfields and McCoys were entrepreneurs seeking to climb up from hardship after fierce economic competition and rapid technological change had turned their lives upside down. When members of both families took their grievances to court, their dispute grew into a struggle between two states. Far from an isolated story of mountain lust and violence between “hillbillies,” the Hatfield-McCoy feud was a microcosm of the tensions inherent in the nation’s rapid industrialization after the Civil War. 1x60 HD

Woodstock

In August 1969, nearly half a million people gathered at a farm in upstate New York to hear music. What happened over the next three days, however, was far more than a concert. It would become a legendary event, one that would define a generation and mark the end of one of the most turbulent decades in modern history. Woodstock: Three Days That Defined a Generation turns the lens back at the audience, at the swarming, impromptu city that grew up overnight on a few acres of farm land. 1x82, 1x99 HD

75th Commemoration of the end of World War II

Memory of the Camps

In the spring of 1945, Allied forces liberating Europe found evidence of atrocities which have tortured the world's conscience ever since. As the troops entered the German concentration camps, they made a systematic film record of what they saw. Assembled and edited that summer under the supervision of the British Ministry of Information and the American Office of War Information, some of the documentary editing was done under the direction of Alfred Hitchcock—but the film was left unfinished. FRONTLINE found it stored in a vault of London's Imperial War Museum and, in 1985, broadcast it for the first time. Thirty-five years later, Memory of the Camps remains one of the most definitive and unforgettable records of the 20th century's darkest hour. 1x57 HD

The War

The War, a seven-part series directed and produced by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick, explores the most intimate human dimensions of the greatest cataclysm in history: a worldwide catastrophe that touched the lives of every family on every street in every town in America and demonstrates that in extraordinary times, there are no ordinary lives. Throughout the series, the indelible experience of combat is brought vividly to life as veterans describe what it was like to fight and kill and see men die at places like Monte Cassino and Anzio and Omaha Beach; the H'rtgen Forest and the Vosges Mountains and the Ardennes; and on the other side of the world at Guadalcanal and Tarawa and Saipan; Peleliu and the Philippine Sea and Okinawa. In all of the battle scenes, dramatic historical footage and photographs are combined with extraordinarily realistic sound effects to give the film a terrifying, visceral immediacy. 14x60 HD

D-Day 360

Focusing on the most important strip of Omaha beach that day—the exit at Vierville-sur-Mer—D-DAY 360 strips D-Day back to its raw data to reveal how the odds of victory, in the greatest gamble of World War II, swung on what happened over a five-hour period on a five mile stretch of French coastline. Data gathered through forensic laser scanning, 3D computer modeling, and eye-witness accounts bring the battlefield to life as never before. 1x54 HD

The Rape of Europa

The Rape of Europa tells the epic story of the systematic theft, deliberate destruction, and miraculous survival of Europe's art treasures during the Third Reich and World War II. In a journey through seven countries, the film takes viewers into the violent whirlwind of fanaticism, greed, and warfare that threatened to wipe out the artistic heritage of Europe. For twelve long years, the Nazis looted and destroyed art on a scale unprecedented in history. But heroic young art historians and curators from America and across Europe fought back with an extraordinary campaign to rescue and return the millions of lost, hidden, and stolen treasures. Now, more than sixty years later, the legacy of this tragic history continues to play out as families of looted collectors recover major works of art, conservators repair battle damage, and nations fight over the fate of ill-gotten spoils of war. 2x54 HD

The Swamp

Once more than 100 miles long and 60 miles wide, the impenetrable grass, water and wildlife of the Everglades originally covered most of south Florida. One journalist decried it as a “vast and useless marsh.” Today, the area is home to seven million residents, 40 million annual tourists and the world's largest concentration of golf courses. The Swamp tells the dramatic story behind this transformation, examining the history, ecological collapse, and potential resurrection of one of the Earth's largest and most unique ecosystems. The Swamp recounts the work of the politicians, businessmen and engineers who transformed the Everglades and cleared the way for the development that would ultimately destroy it, as well as the activists who sounded the alarm about its future and lobbied for its preservation and revival. 1x114 HD

Reconstruction: America After the Civil War

Henry Louis Gates, Jr. presents the definitive history of the transformative years following the American Civil War, when the nation struggled to rebuild itself amidst profound loss, massive destruction and revolutionary social change. The film also explores the flowering of African American art, music, literature and culture as tools of resistance in the struggle against Jim Crow racism, and the surge of political activism that marked the launch of iconic civil rights organizations. 4x55, 2x120 HD

NAVAL HISTORY AND HERITAGE COMMAND

Sealab

On a February day in 1969, off the shore of northern California, a U.S. Navy crane carefully lowered 300 tons of metal into the Pacific Ocean. The massive tubular structure was an audacious feat of engineering—a pressurized underwater habitat, complete with science labs and living quarters for an elite group of divers who hoped to spend days or even months at a stretch, living and working on the ocean floor. The Sealab project would push the limits of ocean exploration the same way NASA was pushing the limits of space exploration. As Americans were becoming entranced with the effort to land a man on the moon, these divers, including one of NASA's most famous astronauts, were breaking depth barrier records underwater. Sealab tells the little-known story of the daring program that tested the limits of human endurance and revolutionized the way humans explore the ocean. 1x53 HD

The Siege of Mecca

On November 20, 1979, hundreds of heavily armed men took over the Grand Mosque of Mecca. Within minutes, they transformed the holiest shrine of Islam into a fortress—and a trap for almost 100,000 pilgrims inside. The ensuing 15 days of battle cost hundreds, if not thousands, of lives, shook Saudi Arabia to its foundations, destabilized the Middle East and pushed the global balance of power to the brink of collapse. After more than five years of research, with exclusive access to first-hand accounts and private archives from Arab, French, German and American military, intelligence and civilian sources, this film finally reveals what really happened during the siege, what consequences it had and how it still affects the world today. 1x52, 1x90 HD

ROTHKO

PICTURES MUST BE MIRACULOUS

Celebrated painter Mark Rothko is considered one of the most renowned figures of the Abstract Expressionist movement. For decades, Rothko struggled to find his unique voice, snubbed by galleries and museums, and barely subsisting on occasional sales and a day job as an art teacher. In 1948, Rothko discovered the style that would make him one of the country's most acclaimed artists. Today, Rothko's work routinely breaks records at auctions, selling for tens of millions of dollars. Rothko: Pictures Must Be Miraculous explores the artist's tumultuous journey and includes interviews with Rothko's daughter Kate and son Christopher, Academy Award-nominated writer John Logan, and scenes from the Tony Award-winning play "Red," with Alfred Molina in the role of Mark Rothko. 1x53 HD

RAÚL JULIÁ

THE WORLD'S A STAGE

Raúl Juliá: The World's A Stage examines the life and career of the inspiring entertainer, Raúl Juliá. The feature documentary is a revealing portrait of the charismatic actor, who earned recognition across the world for his versatility on stage and on screen before his life was tragically cut short. From his early days on local stages in Puerto Rico to stardom on Broadway and in Hollywood, Raúl's story is one of passion, determination, and a bit of magic—all qualities for which his performances were known. Before "diversity" was a buzzword, the man with the big personality and thick accent was able to amass a varied body of work that stands the test of time and that's helped pave the way for many Latino actors today. Told in his own voice through archival interviews and in the words of those who knew him best, the film traces his personal and professional journeys while showcasing his groundbreaking theater performances and scenes from his cinematic career. 1x90 HD

Charley Pride: I'm Just Me

Charley Pride stands as a symbol of hope and an example of the ways music can influence societal change. He arrived in Nashville in 1963, a year in which the Tennessee capital was the site of sit-ins and racial violence. Two years later, he was a recording artist on a major label, and in short time he became a superstar whose path would lead him to a Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award and a place in the Country Music Hall of Fame. Charley Pride's story is a lesson in the ways that art and expression can triumph over prejudice and defeat injustice. Raised as less than a citizen in brutally segregated Mississippi, Charley Pride's buttery voice and steely resolve helped him to a place as one of the world's most impactful musical artists. 1x53, 1x78 HD

COUNTRY MUSIC

A FILM BY KEN BURNS

“Country fans will be gobsmacked. And those who think they have no interest in the genre will have to think again.”

— ROLLING STONE

“Burns’ pedigree instantly signals that country music demands attention, especially from those who may have previously reduced the genre to outdated stereotypes.”

— BILLBOARD

Filled with memorable musical moments, interviews with more than 80 country music artists, and evocative footage Country Music weaves an unforgettable story that is both intimate and sweeping. Among the storytellers are historian Bill Malone and a wide range of country artists such as Marty Stuart, Rosanne Cash, Vince Gill, Reba McEntire, Merle Haggard, Dolly Parton, Willie Nelson, Dwight Yoakam, Emmylou Harris, Kris Kristofferson, and Naomi and Wynonna Judd, as well as studio musicians and record producers. The film uses more than 3,200 photographs and over two hours of archival footage, including rare and never-before-seen photos and footage of Jimmie Rodgers, Johnny Cash and others. 9x60 or 7x120 + 1x150 HD
